GMAT Review Course

For those who need to review the type of math on the GMAT and to learn the basic strategies for the Math and Verbal. Particularly useful for people who have been out of school for a while, who have not taken exams recently, or who were never strong in math. Three hour classes meet typically once a week for 6 weeks in the GMAT review course. The six classes are:

Arithmetic and Algebra Problems
Word Problems & Math Shortcuts
Geometry Problems & Graphs/Chart Questions
Data Sufficiency Problems
Sentence Correction Questions
Reading Comprehension/Critical Reasoning Questions

With eighteen hours of classes, the GMAT Review Course offers ample time to review not only the material covered in the GMAT but also test-taking skills and strategies, including very practical hints and shortcuts on how to answer the questions. Spots in these sessions are extremely limited so we encourage you to register early.
