

FINANCE

MEDIAN CO-OP
HOURLY PAY

$22

TOP CO-OP
EMPLOYERS

Goldman Sachs
BlackRock
Vanguard

AVERAGE
STARTING SALARY

$74,732

VIEW PROGRAM DETAILS »

lebow.drexel.edu

Understanding finance is key to interpreting the global economy and making sound business decisions. The study of finance at Drexel LeBow employs a real-world perspective and experiential learning to provide students with an in-depth understanding of financial markets and how firms raise and allocate capital. Knowledge of investments and markets also equips individuals to manage their personal finances effectively. Studying finance builds analytical, problem-solving and critical thinking skills that are applicable across various industries and roles.

DEGREE OPTIONS

- BS in Business Administration — Major in Finance
- BS in Business Administration/MBA
- Minor in Finance

COURSEWORK

- Corporate Finance
- Risk Management
- Investment Analysis
- Entrepreneurial Finance
- Applied Portfolio Management
- Global Financial Management
- Fintech

CAREER OUTLOOK

Career opportunities for finance students include serving as a financial or credit analyst, bank officer or wealth manager. The major also provides excellent preparation for professional credentials, including the Chartered Financial Analyst (CFA) designation and Certified Financial Planner (CFP) certification.

CONTACT US

CAITLIN BRADY

Director, Undergraduate Programs & Recruitment
cem398@drexel.edu | 215.571.3570

EDWARD NELLING, PHD

Department Head, Finance
en26@drexel.edu | 215.895.2117

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
LeBow
College of Business