Accounting at Drexel University

TOP CO-OP EMPLOYERS

Chubb
Comcast
Johnson & Johnson
Grant Thornton
KPMG
PWC

MEDIAN CO-OP HOURLY PAY

$23

Median co-op hourly pay for accounting majors

AVERAGE STARTING SALARY

$78,050

Average starting salary for accounting majors, class of 2025

As business continues to evolve through advances in automation and AI, organizations need accounting professionals with a strong foundation in analytical thinking and sound business judgment. In Drexel LeBow's BSBA in Accounting, you'll gain hands-on experience with current accounting technologies while developing the practical skills needed to succeed in a rapidly changing profession. The program's curriculum also meets the education requirements to earn a Certified Management Accountant (CMA) license. If you're planning to obtain a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) license, consult with your academic adviser upon declaring the major to ensure you have ample time to fulfill the CPA requirements.

Degree Options

- BS in Business Administration — Major in Accounting
- BS in Business Administration/MBA
- Minor in Accounting

Coursework Examples

- Financial Reporting I and II
- Advanced Accounting
- Advanced Managerial Accounting
- Principles of Auditing
- Federal Income Taxes
- Advanced Federal Taxes
- Financial Statement Analysis

Career Outlook

A business degree with an accounting major is useful in nearly any field or sector. As an accounting graduate, you can build a career across public accounting, corporate finance, tax, risk management, consulting and more. Examples of careers include financial analyst, CFO, tax director, business consultant and accounting firm partner.

Learn more about this program by scanning the QR code or visiting lebow.drexel.edu/academics/undergraduate

Version no. 261026-01

LEBOW.DREXEL.EDU

Caitlin Brady, Director, Undergraduate Programs & Recruitment
215.571.3570 | cem398@drexel.edu

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
LeBow
College of Business