Finance at Drexel University

TOP CO-OP EMPLOYERS

JPMorganChase
Johnson & Johnson
BlackRock
Vanguard

MEDIAN CO-OP HOURLY PAY

$23

Median co-op hourly pay for finance majors

AVERAGE STARTING SALARY

$75,524

Average starting salary for finance majors, class of 2025

Drexel LeBow's BSBA in Finance provides a strong foundation in how financial decisions are made within organizations and financial markets. Through hands-on, data-driven learning, you'll build the analytical and quantitative skills to evaluate investments, assess business value, forecast financial performance and make informed financial decisions while also learning to communicate insights effectively and make ethical decisions with confidence. Graduate prepared to succeed in today's financial markets and adapt to tomorrow's opportunities.

Degree Options

- BS in Business Administration — Major in Finance
- BS in Business Administration/MBA
- Minor in Finance

Coursework Examples

- Corporate Finance
- Risk Management
- Investment Securities and Markets
- Entrepreneurial Finance
- Applied Portfolio Management
- Global Financial Management
- Fintech

Career Outlook

A business degree with a finance major will prepare you to help organizations make strategic decisions, evaluate opportunities and manage risk in a complex global marketplace. Examples of careers include corporate finance, private equity, financial planning, wealth management and more.

Learn more about this program by scanning the QR code or visiting lebow.drexel.edu/academics/undergraduate

Version no. 261026-01

LEBOW.DREXEL.EDU

Caitlin Brady, Director, Undergraduate Programs & Recruitment
215.571.3570 | cem398@drexel.edu

DREXEL UNIVERSITY
LeBow
College of Business